

Brahmavrinda

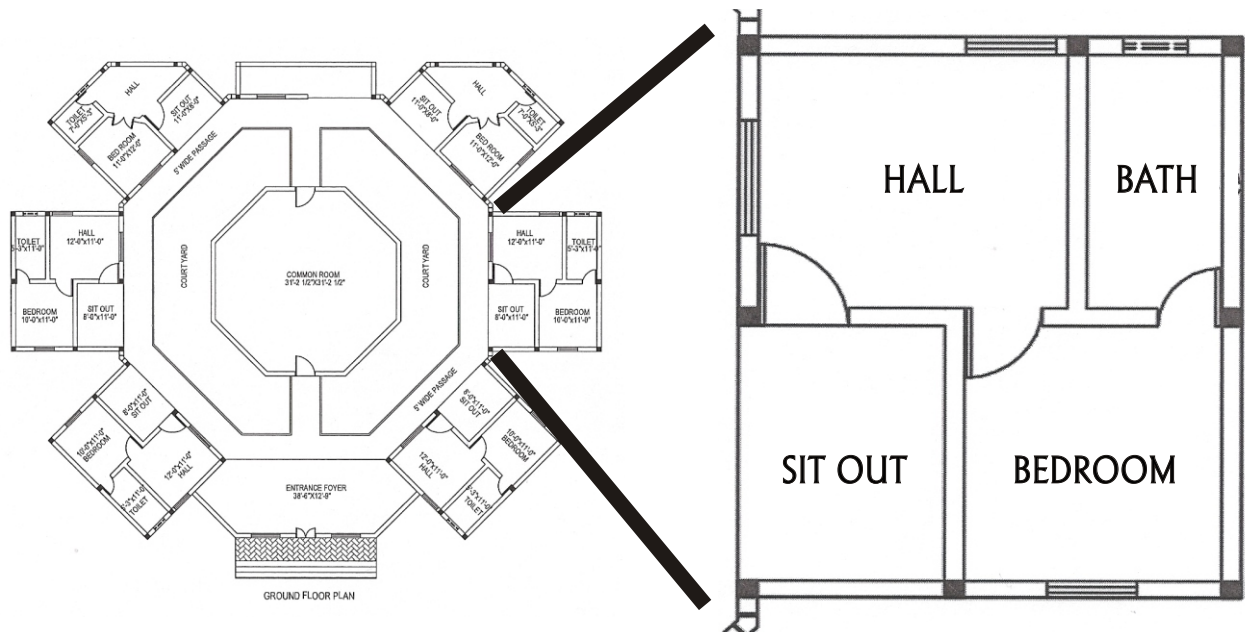

The senior citizens center has broken ground and is moving forward.

Brahmavrinda is a group of senior homes being built on the Chinmaya Vijaya campus. When completed, they will house 30 couples.

These homes will allow an opportunity to build mutually beneficial relationships between the senior residents and the children. The children will have the benefit of “grandparent” relationships, learn respect for their elders and to act selflessly with patience and compassion.

The seniors will be offered the chance to act as mentors and share their life experiences. Their relationships with the children will keep them busy and give them a sense of purpose and an opportunity for service.

The plans are to inaugurate Brahmavrinda with Annashala (the kitchen/dining/prayer hall building) on October 12th of 2009.
